

Stillwater Pioneer Athlete Memorial

DREW DeLOZIER WILLIAMS

September 3, 1972 - July 3, 1992

Stillwater High School Class of 1991

Blessed with athletic talent and a fiery competitive spirit, Drew Williams was a consummate scholar-athlete who shined in all aspects of his life. He earned nine varsity letters in football, basketball, and baseball. An All-State Football player, Drew recorded over four hundred tackles as a linebacker while starting thirty-six of the thirty-eight games in his career.

Mature beyond his years, Drew was a gentle person who provided leadership by actions rather than words. Universally popular as a person, his smile and sense of humor were keys to his personality. Drew never relied on his physical feats to gain respect. He was as serious about his studies as he was about his athletics. He thoroughly prepared himself for success in the classroom and on the field.

Above all else, Drew Williams was a competitor. He loved competition in a championship game or on a driveway court. Giving his best was the essence of his character. A team player who loved his teammates, Dew never let personal achievements affect his dedication to team goals or his relationship with his peers.

Drew was attending Southwest Missouri State University on a football scholarship at the time of his death. Drew's example inspired classmates during his lifetime and his memory continues to touch their lives today. He believed in giving a full four quarters of effort, four quarters of devotion, and four quarters of love to everything associated with his life. Pioneer Pride has no greater model than Drew DeLozier Williams.
